

HEPATOLOGY CLINIC

REFERRING PHYSICIAN INFORMATION

The Hepatology Clinic is a multidisciplinary group of medical providers collaborating to provide coordinated care for patients with disorders of the liver, gallbladder or bile ducts.

Specialists in the areas of gastroenterology (with special interest in liver diseases), oncology, surgery, pathology, radiology, psychiatry and social work are all available in one location to coordinate the care of each patient. This specialized team works with patients and their families to provide emotional support and management of their disease process.
